

You Are My King
Charlie Holmes (September 2016)

(v1) I see now that it's not me it's you.
my eyes have been opened to the truth.
you're the one who deserves the glory.
This is not mine it's your own story.
I was blind so focused on my self.
I couldn't see I had you on the shelf.
now I see I had it upside down.
you're the king you deserve to wear the crown.

(ch) So take this crown off of my head,
and place it where it belongs instead.
This is the time this is the day.
this is the hour I proclaim you are my King!

(v2) I see now that it's not me it's you
your grace is what Angels long to look into my life would be nothing without Christ
I am His. He bought me with a price.
Every breath I breathe for every day.
it is yours to give or take away.
while I'm at it every song I sing
should only always glorify my King.
